PRICE THREE CENTS

CONGRESS.

Speaker Carlisle Names the Committees.

The Chairmen of all the Leading and Very Important Committees Are Given.

While Others are Given in Full by the Associated Press Telegrams.

WASHINGTON.

Full Proceedings in Both Houses To-Day.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Mr. Voorhees offered as a substitute for the resolution recently offered by his colleague, reciting in its preamble that the commissioner of pensions in his annual report has stated in his annual report that at one time the pension bureau was all but an avowedly political machine, filled with several important points of a single organization, (meaning the republican) and that claimants were often required to support the republican party as a condition upon which pensions should be issued.

The resolution instructs the committee on expenditures of public money to inquire into the truth of these allegations and confers the power to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Logan had nothing to say against the commissioner of pensions, whom he respected highly, but he wished the resolution enlarged so as to include an investigation of the present administration of the office.

Mr. Voorhees accepted the amendment and the resolution went over.

The Utah bill came up and Senator Morgan addressed the senate.

HOUSE.

On the call of states the following were among the bills and resolutions introduced and referred:

To repeal the internal revenue tax on tobacco.

To levy tax on oleomargarine, and collect the same through the internal revenue bureau.

Prohibiting the importation of articles of foreign manufacture bearing a stamp, mark or imprint, conveying the impression that they are of American manufacture.

For the creation of a committee on the subject of alcohol liquor traffic.

By Gifford, of Dakota, for the admission of the State of Dakota.

By Bean, of Arizona, calling on the secretary of the interior for copies of the correspondence between his department and the governor in regard to Indian matters.

LOCAL LINES.

M. J. Brown was sent to the poor house to-day by Trustee Gaffney.

The Pittsburg passenger trains from the east come in two and three hours late to-day.

Miss Merica Hoagland returned from Lafayette to-day, where she was entertained by friends.

Joe Murphy will be asked to play "Shaun Rhue" here. It is a better play than "Kerry Gow."

Al. Foote now wears his nose and left eye in a sling—the effect of the last game of polo at Muncie.

Mr. Joseph B. Fry was stricken with paralysis last evening, and though some what improved is still very low.

Henry Snively, an old citizen who has been very sick at the Harmon House, was taken to the city hospital this afternoon by order of Township Trustee Gaffney.

There will be a game of base ball at the Princess to-morrow and Saturday evenings, between the fat-men's nine and the Princess team. Billy Meyers will captain the fat men.

Geo. W. Phillipson, a fellow who lives near Warsaw, was arrested last night for passing a few spurious coin for drinks. Commissioner Harper looked into his case and held him for trial.

Frank Merriweather, of this city, and who escaped from the insane asylum, was arrested by Sheriff Nelson to-day and is confined in the county jail. Merriweather was sent to the insane asylum for inebriation.

The Miami Democratic club will observe Jackson's Day and in the evening give a public reception at Arion hall. Hon. W. G. Colerick will be one of the speakers and his name was accidentally omitted from the list handed THE SENTINEL.

Mr. Christ Colney, a popular Pittsburg engineer, and Miss Lulu Larimer, of Dunkirk, O., were married at the Episcopal residence by Rev. Father Brammer this afternoon. THE SENTINEL extends congratulations to the young people.

Albert Greiste, formerly of this city, is visiting his mother, Mrs. S. S. Hall, 34 West Main street. Mr. Greiste has a lucrative business, a charming wife and two interesting children at Crawfordsville, Ind., where he has been located the past two years.

Superintendents Woodward, of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago, Stevens, of the Wabash, and E. L. Scott, general agent of the bondholders of the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago road, met at Indianapolis to-day to complete the settlement of the questions at issue between the two roads regarding terminal facilities at Indianapolis.

Henry Bohman, the eccentric peddler who has been in the insane asylum and poor house, is back again. His father sent for him some time ago and his passage was paid to New York and also across the ocean to Bremen. It seems Bohman got away from his friends and came back here. He says he sold his steamboat tickets at New York and with the money came back to Fort Wayne. He is now without a penny and arrangements are perfected to send him back again.

AGAINST LOGANSPORT.

Hon. A. H. Hamilton Proceeds to Collect Back Taxes.

"Mrs. Phoebe Hamilton, wife of A. H. Hamilton, the Fort Wayne millionaire, commenced suit against the city to-day by her attorneys, Judge N. O. Ross and George E. Ross, to recover the back taxes already paid and, to enjoin the collection of taxes now assessed, but unpaid, on the property located on the southside. The complaint sets forth that the property was never legally annexed to the city, and therefore the city has no right to assess taxes on the same. This is a matter that has been before the council for some time. At the last meeting of that body a resolution was introduced favoring the refunding of taxes on the property involved. The council ordered that Mr. Hamilton be compelled to make out a plat of the property on which he desired to be relieved from paying taxes and furnish the same to the council before any further steps should be taken in the matter. Mr. Hamilton refused to carry out this instruction and nothing more was heard of him until yesterday when he arrived in the city for the purpose of commencing legal proceedings in order to gain his point," says the Logansport Pharos.

AWFUL CRUEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Miller Lock Their Children Up and Abandon Them.

A gentleman named Young, who lives on Fairfield avenue, related a sad story to Deputy Prosecutor Bittinger to-day. Philip Miller, who was recently arrested for forging his father's name, lives out on Fairfield avenue. A few days ago Mr. and Mrs. Miller left home and locked their two children in the house. Eighteen hours afterwards the screams of the little ones attracted the attention of neighbors, who broke into the house and rescued the frightened youngsters from death. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have not been heard of, but their unfortunate children are kindly cared for.

Hon. R. C. Bell on Congress.

"Are you going to be a candidate for congress in your district?" asked a News reporter of Hon. R. C. Bell, of Fort Wayne, this morning. "Am I? Well, I should say not," was the reply. "I wouldn't go to congress if the nomination and election were handed me on a silver platter. I'd rather be a plain, ordinary jack-legged state senator in Indiana. An unknown man in congress is swallowed up in the whirlpool of greatness, and has no chance to distinguish himself, unless he is either a man of national reputation before he goes, or serves a number of terms and is put on important committees. In these days there too many aspiring politicians to allow a man to stay in congress very long, as a general thing. I don't want any of it," says the Indianapolis News.

Real Estate Transfers.

Olds Bros., real estate agents, room No. 8, Foster block, report the following recorded real estate transfers:

Louise A. Moore to Max Kowiansky, by warranty deed, the west half of lot 18 P. ft. W. & C. Ry. addition, for $1,500.

Joseph Wrenn to Henrietta A. McCarthy, by warranty deed, lot 1, Beck's addition, for $1,800.

William Goleke to Bridget Ann Reilly, by warranty deed, lot 49, Lillie's addition, for $300.

Titus W. Tilden to Elizabeth M. Tilden, by quit claim deed, 40 acres in sections 31 and 32, Perry township, for $1.

Neuralgia, rheumatism, erysipelas, tumors, swellings, sore throat, toothache and all other pains and aches are promptly cured by Salvation Oil. Price twenty-five cents. Sold everywhere.

The Bucyrus polo team will appear at the Princess on to-morrow one week.

NEAR Haverstraw, New York, stands High Tor, a mountain of romantic rocks, beetling ledges, precipices, zig-zag paths, and that sort of thing. A few days ago Mr. Blackledge and Miss Millicent Porter, lovers were coming down the mountain toward Haverstraw, when he fell headlong from a cliff. His "pale" face was seen gazing up from a tree that had caught the falling form, and the heroine knew she must rescue him. Willing fingers ripped her cloak (how fortunate that she did not have her seal sacque on!), and, trying the four shreds to other shreds, nobly obtained by the truly heroic sacrifice of a petticoat, she let the rope down. When it had been grasped by the youth, up he came, hand over hand, and down he limped to Haverstraw.

A CLEVELAND BELLE

Marries a Colored Barber and Flies with Him.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 7.—Miss Ina Norton, whose parents came to Cleveland three years ago from Seville, Ohio, disappeared last night from her home and to-day it is ascertained she had, yesterday afternoon married a colored barber named Barber. It is supposed they are on their way east. Great excitement is caused by the discovery, as Miss Norton has been moving in excellent society.

A New Departure.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 7.—The state board of agriculture yesterday adopted a resolution asking congress to enact a law placing all dairy products and all imitations or substitutes for the same under the control of a competent government inspector, to the end that such articles shall be branded and sold under their proper names and on their own merits.

Nanticoke's Dead.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

WILKESBARRE, Jan. 7.—Contributions to the Nanticoke relief fund are coming in from various sources. Employees of various mines in that vicinity have decided to each give one day's pay to the fund. This will alone, raise $8,000. Work of the recovery of bodies of the victims goes on steadily attended with great danger.

Work on the Suez Canal Delayed.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The work of widening the Suez canal is delayed, owing to the refusal of the Egyptian government to sanction a modification of the treaty so as to allow the interest on the proposed loan of £3,000,000 to be paid from the loan itself instead of from the receipts of the canal as stipulated in the treaty.

A Big Damage Suit.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—An action for damages has been brought by General Manager Mullik, of the Detroit, Lansing and Northern, against H. W. Ashley, superintendent of the Toledo road, in the sum of $50,000, because of the action of the defendant and his men in having torn up the track and cut the wires of the Lansing road.

He is Boycotted.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 7.—John Egger, proprietor of the Heims Hall and saloon, is boycotted by the Knights of Labor because he refused to let the St. Louis street car strikers have his hall for a ball just after dynamite fiends tried to blow up several street cars.

A Bad Commodore.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

CHESTER, Ill., Jan. 7.—Commodore Flinn and wife, and who have lived unhappily and separated, met Tuesday night, when a quarrel took place. Flinn shot his wife, cut her throat, shot himself twice and tried to cut his own throat. The woman died immediately. Flinn may recover.

Shut Down.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 7.—The Geneva worsted mills shut down yesterday on account of the strike of the weavers.

Mrs. Capt. Henry McKinnie, who has been very ill, is much better, and Captain McKinnie expects to leave for Pittsburg to-morrow.

PROFESSOR YOCUM

Lectures on the Moon at Columbia City.

They held a successful teachers' institute at Columbia City Tuesday. In the evening Professor Yocum, of the Fort Wayne college, was introduced. The subject of his lecture was "The Moon." The professor first gave some of the ancient ideas concerning this heavenly body, which were very curious. At one time they believed that the body was approaching the earth and would actually come in contact with it. This thought spread consternation and fear over all the inhabited globe, until the French astronomer decided that it would approach for a great period of time and then recede from it. This lecture was very interesting, as the close attention of the large audience attested. According to Professor Yocum in about 102,000 years the moon may plunge into this mundane sphere and knock it all into a cocked hat. As matters now stand who cares what is done with this world that far in the future.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

How the Supplications are Directed.

The union of the churches during the week of prayer has been highly beneficial and a source of spiritual profit in years past, and therefore by previous arrangement at the ministers' meeting a week ago, it was concluded to carry out the usual program laid down by the Evangelical Alliance. The services will be held in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church this week, beginning on Monday, Jan. 4, at 2 o'clock and will continue each day at the same hour. The following topics, with leaders' names and dates, are given for reference and ready access:

The prayers to-day were devoted to the church and the family—that the church of Christ may be more united in the bonds of faith and love; that, holding fast the Head, it may grow with the increase of God; that it may be delivered from false apostles and wolves in sheep's clothing; that Christ may be all in all in its teaching, and that the grace of the Holy Spirit may rest more and more on Christian families; on all instructors and pupils in institutions of learning; on Sunday schools and on christian associations of young men and women.—Ephes. iv., 1-24; John xv., 1-12; John xvii., 6-26; Col. iii., 1-17; Prov. xxiii., 13-36; Gal. v.; Acts xx., 28-38; Epistle Jude; Proverbs iv.

The prayers to-morrow will be directed to nations and governments.—For rulers and all in authority; for the spread of justice and peace; for the defeat of malicious plots and conspiracies; for the manifestation of a christian spirit between employers and employed; for the removal of all race and sectional prejudices; for the abolition of traffic in slaves, opium and intoxicating drinks, and all other immoral trades and practices; for a favorable reception of christian missionaries by heathen rulers and peoples; and for the coming of Christ in the kingdom.—I Tim. ii., 16. Ps. xi. II Tim. iii. II Thess. ii. Ps. lxxii. Rom. xii., 1-8. Ps. lxxix. Matt. xxiv., 29-51.

SATURDAY.

"The Christian Life," Rev. J. P. Steward and Rev. W. H. McFarland, leaders.

Myrtle Biddlecome, an orphan girl, attends the Clay school, and her companions have teased and aggravated the child. This morning Morton Fike and Virgil Patterson sent a dog after Miss Biddlecome and the animal bit her severely. Fike and Patterson were arrested and both were fined and after a brief stay in jail were bailed out. Local educators ought to look into this sort of pastime and see that it does not exist in other schools.

And the story so good to each one he does tell.
Singing willow, titwillow, titwillow!
PUBLISHER'S NOTE.—A Chicago paper says that the actor who plays "Koko" in the "Mikado" at a theater there, had such a bad cough that he could not have sung "Titwillow," had he not recovered his voice by a dose of Red Star Cough Cure.

HENDRICKS' STATUE.

Encouraging Condition of Affairs all Over the Country.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 7.—The monument association reports a most encouraging state of affairs. The local organizations throughout the state are busily and systematically canvassing their respective counties, and the indications are that Indiana will contribute generously to the project. The advice from the country at large are equally cheering. The New York friends and admirers of the late vice president are actively at work, and Washington is manifesting warm interest. The secretary of the association returned this morning from Chicago and reports the most cordial co-operation there. A meeting of influential gentlemen was held yesterday evening at the Iroquois club, at which the officers of the leading political organizations were present, and a citizens' committee of twelve prominent gentlemen was appointed, with Potter Farmer at its head. The movement is non-partisan and in the hands of earnest and substantial friends. The secretary reports that the general remark was that such a character as that of Mr. Hendricks should be conspicuously preserved on the public attention and says that Chicago evidently intends to aid the movement in hand very substantially.

SMALL POX

Discovered in Harvard College.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A Boston special says that Harvard college is greatly excited over the report that a case of small pox has been discovered there. The victim's name is not given, but he is a member of Holworthy hall and has been removed to the college hospital.

Boston, Jan. 7.—The report that a case of small pox has been discovered at Harvard college is denied. There is one case of scarlet fever, which has been isolated.

Strikers Mob Non-Union Men.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—This morning, when eight of the non-union men were on their way to work at the Maxwell Bros' box factory, they were attacked by a crowd of strikers—a mob of men and boys armed with sticks and stones. Several of the workmen were seriously hurt. The police were called but they only succeeded in arresting two small boys, who could not be identified.

THE MARKETS.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The stock market 4@ per cent higher generally, and in Lackawanna 1 per cent higher. In the early dealings advances were made of 1@ per cent, but part of this gain was lost before the end of the first hour. The only feature was an advance of 1 1/2 per cent, in Erie preferred. At 11 o'clock the market is quiet and rather heavy.

Money easy at 2@3 per cent.
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Wheat opened strong and 1/4@ higher, with moderate trade. No. 2 red, January, 89@90 1/4. Corn, 1@10 lower, dull and quiet. Mixed Western, 43@52c.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Wheat, 81 1/2 cash. Corn, 36 1/2 cash and Jan. Oats, 28 1/2 cash. Rye, 58. Barley, 62. Flaxseed, $1 12. Whisky, $1 16. Pork, easy, $10 22 1/2 cash and January. Lard, $6 05 cash.

"Lo! the poor Indian!" tramping about in all sorts of weather, and dying with cold. Won't some "good Samaritan" send him a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

NOT THE DORSEY OF "SOAP" FAME.

Nearly every one who travels on the boats of the Louisville and Jeffersonville Ferry Company is acquainted with Mr. J. C. Dorsey, the superintendent of the company, to whom much of its success is due. Mr. Dorsey has a pleasant family and a comfortable home on Wall St. near Chestnut, Jeffersonville, Ind., the happiness of which, however, has been somewhat disturbed by sickness. Mrs. Dorsey has been a severe sufferer from rheumatism, and neuralgia in the face has at times made Mr. Dorsey's life a burden. They are both in the best of health, however, and attribute this to Athlophoros, a remedy which has done for them all that is claimed for it in the matter of curing rheumatism and neuralgia. The story of how they were restored to health by this wonderful medicine was thus told by Mrs. Dorsey to one who called upon her to learn her experience and that of her husband with Athlophoros:

"I was afflicted with a very serious rheumatism last winter. It was principally in the arms, and I was suffering the most intense pain one Saturday evening when my husband came home. I said to him:

"I don't see how I can endure this pain much longer. It seems as if it were eating my bones."

"Well, never mind," said my husband, "I have a bottle of the King cure," at the same time bringing forth a bottle of Athlophoros. I took my first dose at once. That was about six o'clock. In less than two hours the pain was much reduced, and I felt comfortable in comparison with the suffering I had endured. I had such quick relief from the first dose that I got in a hurry and did not wait three hours as I should have according to the directions, but took the second dose at the end of two hours. The medicine was so powerful that it made me quite sick all the next day, but as soon as the bad feelings were gone I found that my rheumatism had gone with them, and I have never had any rheumatic pain since."

"How long ago was this, Mrs. Dorsey?"

"It was the middle of last winter."

"How did you first hear about Athlophoros?"

"It was by accident I might say, that I first heard of it. While I was afflicted with rheumatism my husband was suffering with neuralgia in his face, which had become very much swollen. On the morning of the Saturday which I have mentioned, Mr. Tyler, of Uffa, was crossing on the ferry-boat and noticed that Mr. Dorsey's face was swollen. Mr. Tyler asked him what the trouble was, my husband told him that it was neuralgia. Mr. Tyler then said, 'I know of a valuable medicine that will cure you. If it doesn't, why then I will pay for it.'"

"He then mentioned Athlophoros to my husband, who took down the name and on his way homestopped at a store and bought some. At the time he did not think of it as a remedy for my rheumatism, but seeing by the printed directions that it was for rheumatism as well as for neuralgia, he offered it to me when he came in and found me in so much pain."

"Did it cure Mr. Dorsey's neuralgia?"

"Yes, the pain and swelling soon left and he has not been troubled with them since."

If you cannot get Athlophoros from your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—two dollars per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed, ATLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Benson's Caprine Plasters are widely imitated. That is the fact. Now, why are they imitated? Because they are the only porous plaster in existence that is really trustworthy and valuable. Benson's Plasters are highly and scientifically medicated, and cure in a few hours, ailments upon which no others had any effect whatever. The public are therefore cautioned against plasters bearing the names of "Capricin," or "Capricum," "Capicene," or "Capucin," which are meant to pass for "Capicene" (please note the difference), and also against plasters bearing the name "Benson's Plaster" cut or purchased in the body of the plaster and the "Three Seals" trademark on the face cloth.

P. T. BARNUM grows stoop-shouldered with the weight of years.

REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE shook hands with as many as 2,000 callers on New Year's Day.

LEE LINN, of Wabash, yesterday made arrangements to establish a republican paper at Kokomo within the next thirty days.

We are sorry Dr. Parker, of Kendallville, failed to receive the postoffice at that place. It seems that the present administration is sitting down rather hard on the brethren of the press.

The Indianapolis Journal comes out in favor of a high license. This paper has heretofore been a prohibition advocate. It is thought, at Indianapolis, that both parties will put a high license plank in their platform.

W. W. FERRIER has sold his interest in the Steuben Republican, to A. S. Hale, of Auburn, N. Y., and the paper will hereafter be conducted by Rackestraw & Hale. Mr. Ferrier will spend the summer in Washington territory, and make a location there if the country and climate suit.

The amount of revenue derived from liquor licenses in Chicago under the new $500 license law has increased from $200,000 to $1,500,000 a year, and the number of saloons has decreased from 13,000 to 6,000. The saloons running under the new law find that their increased sales more than make up for the increased license.

AND now comes the word that Hon. A. P. Edgerton is to resign the position of civil service commissioner. We are sorry to see Mr. Edgerton withdraw from such an important position, but glad to know that he will return to our city, where his influence has always acted like a charm and been wielded for the public good and the welfare of his home.

It is now thought that the democratic state convention will not be held until about the second week in September. This will give us a short and active campaign. People are tired and disgusted with long winded campaigns. They not only interfere with business, but keep everything in an uproar. The congressional and county conventions should not be held until after the state convention meets and establishes a platform.

In the state treasurer's office is a very elaborate and costly gilt and bronze clock, and two bronze representations of scenes in his relief, besides some silverware, spoons, etc., in the safe. These are the property of the state and were part of the furniture and ornaments in the "governor's residence" when the state supported such an establishment, but what became of the rest of it nobody knows. Governor Willard was the last executive who had a residence furnished by the state.

"A GREAT many people, as well as newspapers, seem to think that we will not be able to get the state house completed in time for the next legislature," said Commissioner Nelson this morning. "We do not expect to have it entirely completed by that time, but enough of it—the south half—for the legislature and state officers or at least a greater part of them. Our present expectation is to have the entire building completed and furnished throughout by January 1, 1888, and it will take very persistent work to do that."

MR. BRIANT fails to respond to THE SENTRY'S invitation to point out any bad management or crookedness in the affairs of our county. We hope this will satisfy our republican friends that every thing has been conducted fairly and honestly. Mr. Briant was a republican member of the board of commissioners for three years, and all though he was not able to control the board he was permitted to examine every bill that was allowed and if there was anything paid that was not right and proper, he ought to and does know it.

UNCLE SAM paid out during 1885 a million a week for interest on the public debt. Even at that he got off easier than he has in any year since 1863. In 1867 he paid out for this purpose $144,000,000, sum nearly equal to his present total expenses, excluding interest and sinking fund. Even as recently as 1880 the interest burden was $55,000,000.

THERE are two well-known house-decorators in New York City who are brothers, of the same height, weight, complexion and build, wearing clothes of the same color and style, and lunching together, without speaking a word to each other, every day at Delmonico's. The ordinary mortal cannot tell them apart, and one never knows which of the two he is talking to.

A CASE of petrification is reported from the town of Topsfield, Mass. The sexton has been engaged in removing bodies from an old part of the cemetery to the new, and the body of Israel Gallop was removed in the ordinary way, but it was found impossible to raise the body of his wife, who was buried by his side, and a plank was put down on an inclined plane, and the coffin in this way was drawn to the surface. A hasty examination showed that the body, which had been buried thirty years, had become petrified, the eyes and a portion of the nose only showing signs of decay, the rest, even to the folds of her robe, being changed to stone.

THE microphone—an electric stethoscope whose sensitiveness to the faintest sounds has been described as making "the walk of a fly seem like the tramp of an elephant"—is likely to become of great use in medical diagnosis. In the Atlanta Medical and Surgical Journal, Dr. E. describes an interesting series of experiments made by him with the instrument. He was able to detect the nature of obscure fractures by the character of the sounds conducted through the instrument, and could differentiate aneurisms from tumors by the sounds of pulsation. Intracranial and muscular sounds were made out with great clearness, and in diagnosis for stone the instrument worked with mathematical accuracy. The doctor suggests that an audiphone constructed on the principle of the microphone would prove inestimable to people of impaired hearing.

If the hydrophobia scare continues, it is not improbable that the now despised barber may rise once more to his ancient dignity, and become a surgeon-general, second only to the surgeon-general in the social hierarchy. "Dry cupping" immediately and assiduously applied to the part bitten is a remedy strongly recommended by several eminent doctors; and whatever may be our faith in M. Pasteur most of us would probably prefer to give this simpler cure a fair trial in the first place, reserving our right to rush off to Paris and have ourselves inoculated the moment serious symptoms begin to develop. Dry cupping has been found efficacious in the case of snake bites, and there seems to be no reason on the face of it why it should not counteract the even more terrible dog bites as well. Most barbers have ceased to hang out the brass basin which used to be the sign of their surgical calling; let them now resume it, sharpen their lancets, and adopt the motto, "A prick in time saves nine."

REPRESENTATIVE TOM REED, of Maine, is nearly six feet high, and his frame must weigh considerably over 200 pounds. There is no man in Congress, or, indeed, in public life, unless it be Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, who has so keen a wit as Tom Reed. There is not one except Ingalls who approaches him in bitter sarcasm and cruel thrusts at an adversary. He has a most tantalizing manner when he gets into a quarrel on the floor of the House, and he does not care if he wounds his enemies so deeply that they carry their scars to their graves. When Reed rises to his full height, plants his left foot in his chair, and says "Mr. Speaker!" in shrill, down-East accents, everybody turns to listen, and everybody listens till he sits down. He is an able and skillful debater, with a terrible ability to say cutting things, under which his opponents squirm helplessly. Personally he is kindly and even genial, but his power of sarcasm runs away with him, as it does with most men who have it at all, so that he has turned friends into enemies, not only in Portland but in Washington. He is a delightful story teller, and one of the best after-dinner speakers in Washington.

Father of Diseases.
Constipation has been called the father of diseases, therefore it should not be regarded as a trifling ailment. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep and no health can be expected where a cative habit of the body prevails. Take a half-tubeful of Simmons Liver Regulator after each meal, the bowels will be gently moved without gripping or nausea as naturally as if no medicine had been taken. Regularity in taking the medicine daily will soon effect a permanent cure.

P. T. BARNUM grows stoop-shouldered with the weight of years.

REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE shook hands with as many as 2,000 callers on New Year's Day.

LEE LINN, of Wabash, yesterday made arrangements to establish a republican paper at Kokomo within the next thirty days.

We are sorry Dr. Parker, of Kendallville, failed to receive the postoffice at that place. It seems that the present administration is sitting down rather hard on the brethren of the press.

The Indianapolis Journal comes out in favor of a high license. This paper has heretofore been a prohibition advocate. It is thought, at Indianapolis, that both parties will put a high license plank in their platform.

W. W. FERRIER has sold his interest in the Steuben Republican, to A. S. Hale, of Auburn, N. Y., and the paper will hereafter be conducted by Rackestraw & Hale. Mr. Ferrier will spend the summer in Washington territory, and make a location there if the country and climate suit.

The amount of revenue derived from liquor licenses in Chicago under the new $500 license law has increased from $200,000 to $1,500,000 a year, and the number of saloons has decreased from 13,000 to 6,000. The saloons running under the new law find that their increased sales more than make up for the increased license.

AND now comes the word that Hon. A. P. Edgerton is to resign the position of civil service commissioner. We are sorry to see Mr. Edgerton withdraw from such an important position, but glad to know that he will return to our city, where his influence has always acted like a charm and been wielded for the public good and the welfare of his home.

It is now thought that the democratic state convention will not be held until about the second week in September. This will give us a short and active campaign. People are tired and disgusted with long winded campaigns. They not only interfere with business, but keep everything in an uproar. The congressional and county conventions should not be held until after the state convention meets and establishes a platform.

In the state treasurer's office is a very elaborate and costly gilt and bronze clock, and two bronze representations of scenes in his relief, besides some silverware, spoons, etc., in the safe. These are the property of the state and were part of the furniture and ornaments in the "governor's residence" when the state supported such an establishment, but what became of the rest of it nobody knows. Governor Willard was the last executive who had a residence furnished by the state.

"A GREAT many people, as well as newspapers, seem to think that we will not be able to get the state house completed in time for the next legislature," said Commissioner Nelson this morning. "We do not expect to have it entirely completed by that time, but enough of it—the south half—for the legislature and state officers or at least a greater part of them. Our present expectation is to have the entire building completed and furnished throughout by January 1, 1888, and it will take very persistent work to do that."

MR. BRIANT fails to respond to THE SENTRY'S invitation to point out any bad management or crookedness in the affairs of our county. We hope this will satisfy our republican friends that every thing has been conducted fairly and honestly. Mr. Briant was a republican member of the board of commissioners for three years, and all though he was not able to control the board he was permitted to examine every bill that was allowed and if there was anything paid that was not right and proper, he ought to and does know it.

UNCLE SAM paid out during 1885 a million a week for interest on the public debt. Even at that he got off easier than he has in any year since 1863. In 1867 he paid out for this purpose $144,000,000, sum nearly equal to his present total expenses, excluding interest and sinking fund. Even as recently as 1880 the interest burden was $55,000,000.

GERRET HENDRICKS, a Dutch Menominee, who came here with three others in 1688, was a direct ancestor of the late Vice President. These four Hollanders, on the 13th of April, 1688, signed and published a protest against slavery, which they found existing in Eastern Pennsylvania, wherein they declared: "Ye Quakers do here handle men like they handle ye cattle."

SENATOR EDMUNDS keeps four horses in his stable. He lives quietly but expensively. When he first entered the chamber it is said he was worth less than $50,000, but his wealth now is placed at $500,000. He has a fashion of leaving his seat in the Senate and going over to argue a case before the Supreme Court that pays him very well.

Now and then it is proclaimed that Christianity in the United States is declining. Dr. Parkhurst recently had an able article on the subject in the North American Review. He gives the following statistics of the increase in the number of evangelical churches and communicants from 1800 to 1880: In the year 1800 there were in the United States 3,000 evangelical churches; in 1850, 43,072; in 1870, 70,148, and in 1880, 97,090—a gain of 27,000 in the decade between 1870 and 1880. In 1800 there were 364,000 communicants; in 1850, 3,520,000; in 1870, 6,670,000; in 1880, 10,065,000. Of course during all this time there was an immense increase in population, but the increase in church membership a good deal more than kept pace with that of population. Taking the whole country through, there was in 1880 one evangelical communicant to every 14½ inhabitants; in 1850, one to every 6½; in 1800, one to every 24, and in 1800, one to every 5. In 1815 only 5 per cent. of the students were church members. In 1830 26 per cent. of the students of all American colleges were professed Christians; in 1850, 38 per cent.; in 1865, 43 per cent.; in 1880, only 12,063 students in sixty-five colleges, 6,081, or a little more than half, were professors of religion.

THE FIRST KEEN TWINGE.
As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism; we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

Why continue the use of irritating powders, snuffs or liquids. Ely's Cream Balm, pleasant of application and a sure cure for catarrh and cold in the head, can be had for 50¢ at druggists. It is easily applied with the finger, is safe and pleasant and is curing the most obstinate cases. It gives relief at once.

Being a sufferer from chronic catarrh, and having derived great benefit from the use of Ely's Cream Balm I can highly recommend it. Its sales are far in excess of all other catarrh remedies.—B. Franken, druggist, Saginaw, Ia.

CONTAGIOUS

Diseases are prevalent all over the world.

I am a native of England, and while I was in that country I contracted a terrible blood poison, and for two years was under treatment as an out-door patient at Nottingham Hospital, England, but was not cured. I suffered the most agonizing pains in my bones, and was covered with sores all over my body and limbs. I had vertigo and a fever, with partial loss of sight, severe pains in my head and eyes, etc., which nearly ran me crazy. I lost all hope in that country, and sailed for America, and was treated at Roosevelt in this city, as well as by a prominent physician in New York having no connection with the hospital. I saw the advertisement of Swift's Specific, and I determined to give it a trial as a last resort. I had given up all hope of being cured, as I had gone through the hands of the medical men in Nottingham and New York. I took six bottles of S. S. and I can say with great joy that they have cured me entirely. I am as sound and well as I ever was in my life. W. J. LEAHY, New York City, June 12, 1885.

BLOOD

Is the life, and he is wise who remembers it. But in March of last year (1884), I contracted blood poison, and being in Savannah, Ga., at the time, I went into the hospital there for treatment. I suffered very much from rheumatism at the same time. I did not get well under the treatment there, nor was I cured by any of the usual means. I have now taken seven bottles of Swift's Specific and am sound and well. I drove the poison out through the skin on the skin. W. J. LEAHY, Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 7, 1885.

Two years ago I contracted blood poison. After taking prescriptions from the best physicians here and at Dallas, I concluded to visit Hot Springs, and on reaching it, a German doctor recommended me to try Swift's Specific, assuring me that it would benefit me more than Hot Springs. Although the had produced great holes in my back and chest, and had removed all the hair off my head, yet I began to improve in a week's time, and the sores began to heal, and were entirely gone inside of eight weeks.

WASHINGTON.

A Newsy Society Letter From the President's Mansion.

How the President and His Sister Entertain their Guests.

(Special Correspondence.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Some of the envious said it was just the president's luck to have such perfect weather on his first New Year's in the White House. They remembered that his inaugural day had been similarly blessed, and talked about "lucky stars" and "ruling planets" like superstitious Romans. All Washington blessed the weather, however. Take away its New Year's and what has Washington left that it values? The obscure inhabitant, who siffs its winter fuel from the ashes thrown away by the more comfortable, takes a pride in the brave show that the day brings forth. Diplomatic costumes, carriages, feathers and turbans are the things even to see from afar. The citizens of this city who are debarred from participating in these splendors by reason of poverty and social obstructions rise while it is yet night on the morning following New Year's, to greedily read the glowing newspaper descriptions of the great annual reception.

At 10 o'clock the carriages were flying thither and yon, gathering in the diplomats who were to be first at the executive mansion, and the red bodied members of the Marine band gathered one by one with freshly sounded trumpet ready to disturb the air at 11 sharp with the inevitable "Hail to the Chief."

Most lustily they blew as the president came down the main stairway with Mrs. Bayard on his arm, preceded by Col. Wilson, U. S. A., and escorted by S. A. Brown, chief clerk of the state department.

The blue parlor was the reception room proper. It was modestly decorated with flowers, and so were the red and green and east parlors. Daylight was shut out from all but the east parlor and gaslight took its place. Gas is considered the indispensable adjunct of all receptions. It acts as a meliorator and beautifier.

One of the front windows of the mansion was converted into an egress for the crowd. The policemen, as the reporters say, "remained quietly in the background." What else they might have done I can't surmise, since it was a reception in high life and not a mob, which they were called to attend. They had all they could "quietly" do, however, to keep the crowd in line outside and guard the gate from the forcible entrance of the energetic unofficial persons who were very anxious to get in before the official personages.

The secretary of state brought in Miss Cleveland immediately following the president. Her gown was of garnet velvet, combined with pale pink silk, and was covered with embroidery. Her corsage, which was square necked and laced, was of velvet, also the court train. She wore a necklace, pink and white pearls in her hair, which was dressed high, and white gloves over her bare arms, and carried a pink and garnet feather fan. Her toilet was tasteful and becoming, and she was kind and unwaveringly amiable to the end. Some of the specially discriminating thought she showed a feebler interest in the main and a little worn soldiers of the Grand Army of the Republic than in all the fine personages of the goodly company.

The president was in black, even to the cravat. His coat was a Prince Albert, and he wore no flower on his lapel. His secretaries were similarly attired. He wore also his usual undisturbed serenity of manner, and when it came to handshaking he threw all previous presidents into the shade. This feature of the exercises of the day was rushed through at the rate of thirty-four to the minute, aggregating 6,000 persons during the reception. Nothing shakes like this was ever accomplished before. Gen. Grant once shook twenty-eight hands a minute for half an hour, the highest White House record ever made until the late New Year's.

The secretary of war conferred with Mrs. Manning, the secretary of the treasury with Mrs. Whitney, the secretary of the navy with Mrs. Vilas, and the postmaster general with Miss Bayard. Mrs. Lamont, Misses Mann and Florence Fayard, Miss Vilas, two Misses Hiden, nieces of Samuel J. Tilden, and Mrs. Andrews, of Baltimore, entered the room in pairs and were scattered through the rear half of the parlor. Between them and the receiving line were the cabinet officers.

The receiving ladies were attired in evening dress on train while all the ladies who called, the wives of foreign ministers, wore short visiting dresses, with bonnets to match.

Newspaper correspondents, men and women, were plentiful. They gathered about Col. Lamont in the east parlor where he came occasionally to vary the work of doing reception duties.

RECEIVING THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS.
Fewer diplomats than usual graced the reception, because many of them are absent from the city. The number was large enough, however, to scent the atmosphere heavily with camphor and lavender for hours. Their court suits, so seldom aired in our courtless republic, always diffuse an odor of cedar chests and anti-moth applications. Portugal, Italy, Great Britain, Belgium, China, Austria, Mexico, Russia, France, Switzerland, Turkey, Spain, Peru, the Netherlands, Ecuador, Germany, Japan, the United States of Colombia, Norway, Sweden, Brazil, the Argentine Republic, Denmark and Venezuela were represented, sometimes by their ministers, and in cases of the ministers' absence from the city by their attaches, all in full court dress, of course.

During the diplomatic part of the ceremony Col. Wilson, of the engineer corps, stood between the president and Miss Cleveland, and Secretary Bayard on the left of the president to introduce to him the members of the diplomatic corps. They entered from the red parlor, the Portuguese minister at the head. Col. Wilson repeated the introductions to Miss Cleveland. She and the other ladies of the line shook hands with the chiefs and bowed to their secretaries and attaches, except where personally acquainted with the latter.

After the diplomatic corps had passed, Col. Wilson took Secretary Bayard's place and introduced all the other official classes to the president, while Lieut. Duval, of the army, made the introductions to Miss Cleveland.

Then came in turn, members of the supreme court and court of claims, the senators and representatives, the army officers, the naval officers, the Mexican veterans' association, numbering sixty, the Oldest Inhabitants, numbering fifty, the Grand Army of the Republic delegations, thousands in all. They entered through the west gates at the avenue; many colored men, some of them crippled, were in this organization. Then the gates were opened to the general public, and their name was legion. They extended in a solid mass, from the gate down the avenue, filling the middle of the street. Perfect order prevailed, and the entire reception passed off without a halt or disagreeable feature.

Secretary Bayard, with his wife, left the executive mansion early, passed on to their house the guests they had invited to a reception and breakfast to the Diplomatic corps at their home on Highland Terrace. Shortly after 12 o'clock their guests arrived in a body. Miss Bayard stood just within the parlor door and welcomed them as they were presented by Mr. Sevelton Brown, of the state department, Secretary and Mrs. Bayard stood on her left and repeated the welcome. Three other daughters of the house and a son, a student at Yale, were present. The dining room doors were opened at 12:30 and the guests invited to enter. The table contained a central ornament, a round cushion of scarlet and white flowers in a bed of smilax. At the head of the table, an immense punch bowl was flanked by salads and oysters. Gaslight lent its enchantment to the scene. After the breakfast, a reception, lasting through the day and evening, was held.

Charles A. Roberts, of East Wilson, N. Y., had thirteen excruciating ulcers on his face and neck. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured them.

Dr. A. C. HENSLIE'S CHLORINE "ROCK CURE."—This preparation is a preventive and original prescription, was extensively used in an unlimited practice for many years, with perfect success by the late A. J. HENSLIE, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y. Having thoroughly tested and tried this remedy, he had no hesitation in pronouncing it positive, safe and effective. It is a compound in its most aggravated form, when administered promptly and according to directions. Its powerful and direct effect upon the diseased mucous membrane, renders it particularly valuable in the treatment of Catarrh of the Bladder, Gleet, Stricture, etc. It is a powerful and effective remedy, and contains no opium in any form, nor any drug which can have a deleterious effect upon the system. The most delicate and most delicate may take it, as directed, with perfect safety. Price $1.00. For sale by all first-class druggists, who decide and retail.

"Mrs. Catherine Fraikin, of Fort Wayne, was in the city yesterday. She was formerly a resident of Washington township, this county," says the Columbia City Post.

Judge Hensch gave T. E. Ellison judgment for $1,000 against the Grand Rapids railroad to-day. He denied a motion for a new trial and the company gave notice of an appeal.

Mr. Fred Brynton and his party went to play "Jack o Diamonds" here soon again. The return engagement would be appreciated and THE SENTINEL would insure a better attendance.

Work on the canal connecting the two lakes at Warsaw is progressing favorably. By May next Pike and Center Lakes will be practically one, so far as steam and row boat navigation is concerned.

A sneak thief stole an overcoat, muffler, gloves and hat from Dan Donnelly's room at the Commercial House last night. Landlord Wilkinson notified the officers and the rascal will not rest as men are on his track.

The case of the preferred creditors against A. Salinger, to close their mortgage, came up for trial in the superior court, at Lafayette, yesterday morning. Mr. Salinger failed to put in an appearance and judgment was taken by default.

"Judge Taylor, of Fort Wayne, is working the wires for the gubernatorial nomination on the republican ticket this year. Colonel Robertson is also spoken of as a probability; however, it will only prove an empty honor," says the Columbia City Post.

"Geo. W. Ball this morning received a letter from A. J. Roush, in which he states that two of his sons, Frank and James, have died in the last ten months. Mr. Roush is still a United States pension agent, with headquarters at Fort Wayne," says the Lafayette Courier.

"D. N. Foster, of the Foster Furniture company, Fort Wayne, was in the city to-day, negotiating a lease of the People's rink building for the purpose of starting a large branch of their Fort Wayne establishment. The negotiations are pending as we go to press," says the Lafayette Courier.

The members of the Rice opera company sang the "Mikado" at Bluffton recently and "after the opera" had a high old time. The Chronicle writes the party up and intimates that one of the girls mashed a Bluffton youth and all of the maids hit the wine bottle frequently. The company has a date here, or rather applied for one. This may be a pointer for Manager Simonson.

Gart Shober, of the Fort Wayne News, Mr. Chas. Green of Albion, and Mr. Kreischbaum, of Ligonier, were at Warsaw yesterday. County Treasurer Dalman must redeem 3,205 gravel road coupons on thoroughfares still in dispute. He has collected as taxes $1,965.01 and will take $1,239.39 from the county fund.

Councilman Ed Lincoln's two-year old child died this morning of scarlet fever. The funeral occurs to-morrow and will be private. Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln are grief-stricken at their loss and a host of friends mourn with them.

Joseph E. Sunderland, check man of the Wabash warehouse, will on the 21st of January be married to Miss Elita Perrin, sister of John Perrin, of THE SENTINEL press room, at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. H. Bookwalter. Invitations are out.

"Fort Wayne, Portland and Decatur organized companies to bore for gas. As has been before remarked, when they get done boring they might pull up the holes and cut them off the right length and sell them for post holes," says the Bluffton Chronicle.

Master Mechanic Barnes, of the Wabash, is building a thirty-seven ton freight engine, upon which he is introducing some new features which he thinks will result in an engine of that weight hauling as many freight cars as does a forty-five-ton consol engine.

The many friends of Judge R. E. Wright, of Allentown, Pa., will be pained to learn of his sudden and dangerous illness. His daughters, Mrs. C. A. Miller and Mrs. A. J. Laubach, left last evening on the limited to attend his bedside and his death is expected at any moment.

Helen LaRue and Henry P. Freeman, who played here with the Little Trump company, in which Leonard Wales took a part, were married at Maysville, Ky., recently. Mr. O. L. Perry has a card to the wedding and recalls the fact that the manager of the company wanted Miss LaRue to marry him here.

General Charlton is superintendent of the Plainfield reform school, is an old newspaper man and once edited a paper at Madison. The general is talked of prominently as a democratic candidate for governor. His visit here was pleasant and besides prominent soldiers, who called, a number of boys who were committed to his charge at Plainfield, paid their respects to their old master.

Frank Dix, Will Buckles, Tom Carey, Ed Davies, Dave Eckert and Al Foote, the Fort Wayne polo team, returned to-day from Muncie where they played two games with the polo club of that city. On Tuesday evening the Fort Wayne team was defeated by a score of three to nothing. Last evening the score was a tie, two to two, in four innings. The home club report a fine time and that they were nicely used by the Muncie boys. Muncie is badly mashed on polo.

Messrs. Hughes and Ward, of Illinois, will commence a two-weeks' gospel temperance meeting at the Academy of Music, next Sunday evening, Jan. 10. Of these gentlemen the Galesburg (Ill.) Daily Register says: "Both are brilliant and magnetic. We doubt whether there are two men engaged in the temperance work in Illinois who are better fitted or better equipped." Their words burn with the fire of a holy purpose. They talk with a logic that reaches the reason and with an eloquence that touches the heart. Their style is forcible, earnest and fascinating. Let every body come to the first meeting.

GOOD TIMES.

Better Times for Everybody—The Poor Man's Millennium.

Fluctuations in Prices Graphically Shown—Wall Street Stocks Increase in Value—The Cost of Food Declines.

[Special Correspondence.]
New York, Jan. 6.—From the extensive list of stock quotations at the New York stock exchange for the year 1885 the following chart has been tabulated. It gives at a glance the highest and lowest quotations of the principal railroad stocks during the past year.

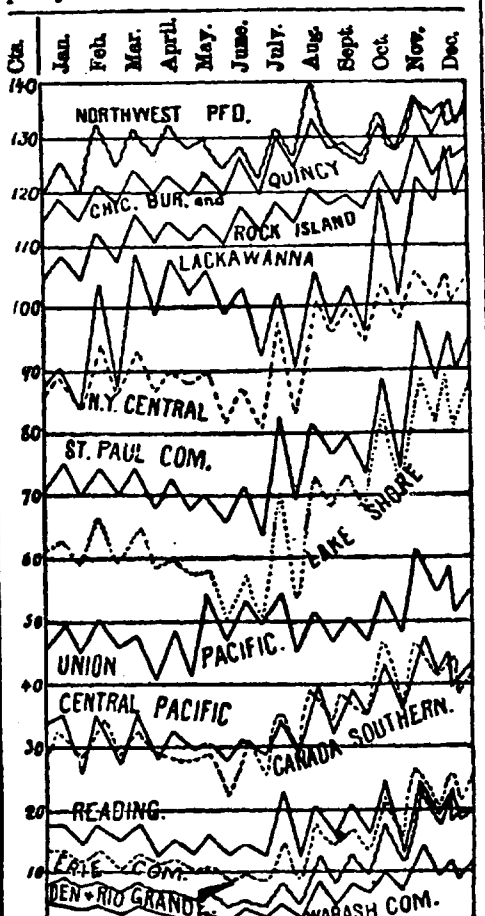

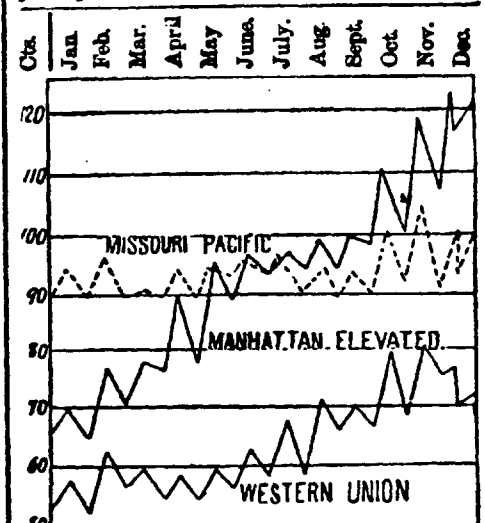

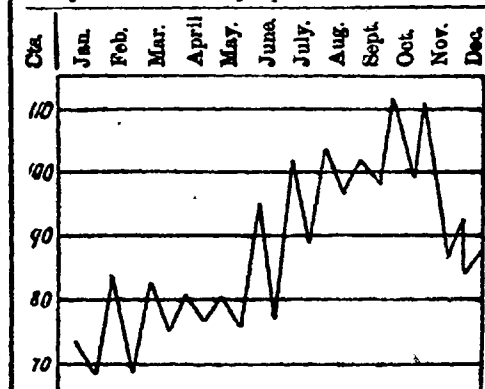

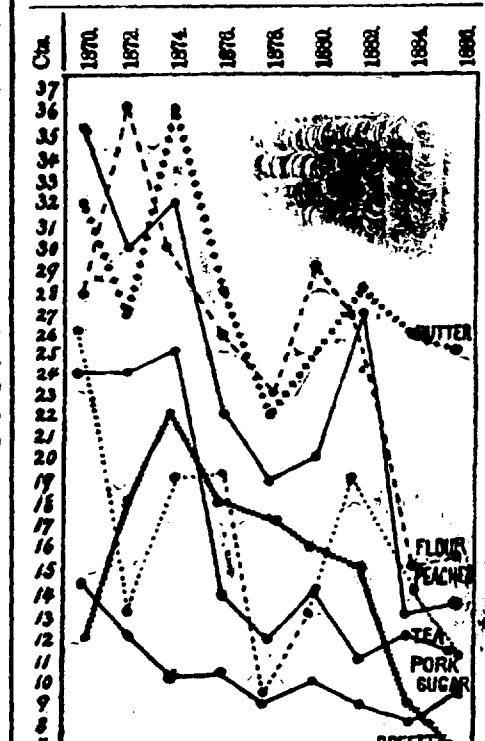

Chart showing the highest and lowest quotations of the principal railroad stocks for each month during the year 1885. It has been an exceedingly busy year in stock speculation. The fluctuation for the first six months it will be seen by the chart were pretty regular. In July there came a spurt and stocks have advanced steadily since. In the year just closed the tendency of the stock market has been upward just as in 1884 it was downward. Though the gain in 1885 was greater than the decrease of the year previous.

The above chart shows the fluctuations for each month during 1885, in the quotations of what are known as the Gould stocks. Their increase in value has been notable and is due undoubtedly to the announcement that Mr. Gould retires from active speculation in Wall street at the close of the late year and intends devoting his attention solely to these three properties.

Speculation in petroleum has become a great feature of the New York market. The above chart gives the highest and lowest prices per barrel for each month during the past year. It will be seen that it opened in January at 74 and fell to 68 that month. It rose to 111 in October but fell to 84 in December closing at 88.

The decline in the cost of food. This chart shows the fluctuation in the wholesale prices for the principal articles of food every second year for the past fifteen years. The grades and prices vary greatly. In this chart the medium grade and whole sale price is given per pound for butter, tea, coffee and sugar in the New York market. The price for peaches is per can. In flour the the merely shows the quantity purchased for 20 cents in 1870 cost 36 cents in 1873, and could at the close of 1885 be purchased for 16 cents. Pork in the same way; the quantity which cost 20 cents in 1870 could be purchased for one half that in 1873; in 1876 it rose to 19 cents only to fall below 10 cents in 1878. It reached 19 cents again in 1883, only to close in 1885 at 11 cents. The cheapness of pork and other provisions is due to the tremendous crop of corn, which amounted to 2,000,000,000 bushels. Comparing the prices of the leading articles of food for 1884-1885, The American Grocer says:

The general drift has been toward a lower range of prices, sugar being the only exception of note. While the prices at the close of the year for wheat and flour are above those at the same time in 1884, there has not been a time in thirty years when the average price of breadstuffs has been as low at the seaboard as during the one just closed. Throughout the year dairy products have been very cheap, the export prices ruling lower than for any other year in the history of the trade, with the exception of 1879. Potatoes are higher in consequence of the general prevalence of rot. Poultry is very cheap, so cheap in fact that fresh cod, or verily called the poor man's turkey, is dear in comparison. In fact, fresh fish and salt mackerel are luxuries this year.

Coffee is decidedly lower, due to enormous supplies and the curtailment of speculation in the article. The importation of tea has been heavy, and prices throughout the year have averaged lower than in 1884. Rice commands the same price as one year before viz., 5 to 7 cents per pound. There has been a heavy consumption of foreign and domestic fruits, and that is a good test of the purchasing power of the masses.

When before has there been a period during which the laborer receiving $1, $2 or $3 per day could supply his table with such a variety of food of the best sort as now? Is there reason for complaining of the cost of living when at retail the best grades of flour are obtainable at a trifle over 3 cents per pound? good butter averaging the year through less than 20 cents per pound, cheese, 10 to 15 cents? Poultry is cheaper than beef; pork products low, the finest brands of hams retailing at 18 cents per pound. The consumer may make choice of wholesome, palatable canned tomatoes, corn, bean or peas anywhere from 8 to 12 cents per can. The cost of food is by no means the greatest part of the year's expenses. In fact food is a better equivalent for the money it costs than any other of the requisites of housekeeping. So far as it is concerned the poor of to-day can live as well as the wealthy class of ten years ago. In that respect it is the poor man's millennium. S. H. HOGAN.

WASHINGTON.

Full Proceedings in Both Houses To-Day.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Mr. Voorhees offered as a substitute for the resolution recently offered by his colleague, reciting in its preamble that the commissioner of pensions in his annual report has stated in his annual report that at one time the pension bureau was all but an avowed political machine, filled with several important points of a single organization, (meaning the republican) and that claimants were often required to support the republican party as a condition upon which pensions should be issued.

The resolution instructs the committee on expenditures of public money to inquire into the truth of these allegations and confer the power to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Logan had nothing to say against the commissioner of pensions, whom he respected highly, but he wished the resolution enlarged so as to include an investigation of the present administration of the office.

Mr. Voorhees accepted the amendment, and the resolution went over.

The Utah bill came up and Senator Morgan addressed the senate.

HOUSE.

On the call of states the following were among the bills and resolutions introduced and referred:

To repeal the internal revenue tax on tobacco.

To levy tax on oleomargarine, and collect the same through the internal revenue bureau.

Prohibiting the importation of articles of foreign manufacture bearing a stamp, mark or imprint, conveying the impression that they are of American manufacture.

For the creation of a committee on the subject of alcohol liquor traffic.

By Gifford, of Dakota, for the admission of the State of Dakota.

By Bean, of Arizona, calling on the secretary of the interior for copies of the correspondence between his department and the governor in regard to Indian matters.

LOCAL LINES.

M. J. Brown was sent to the poor house to-day by Trustee Gaffney.

The Pittsburg passenger trains from the east come in two and three hours late to-day.

Miss Mexico Hoagland returned from Lafayette today, where she was entertained by friends.

Joe Murphy will be asked to play "Sham Rhu" here. It is a better play than "Kerry Gow."

Al. Foote now wears his nose and left eye in a sling—the effect of the last game of polo at Muncie.

Mr. Joseph B. Fry was stricken with paralysis last evening, and though some, what improved is still very low.

Henry Snively, an old citizen who has been very sick at the Harmon House, was taken to the city hospital this afternoon by order of Township Trustee Gaffney.

There will be a game of base ball at the Princess to-morrow and Saturday evenings, between the fat-men's nine and the Princess team. Billy Meyers will captain the fat men.

Geo. W. Phillipson, a fellow who lives near Warsaw, was arrested last night for passing a few spurious coin for drinks. Commissioner Harper looked into his case and held him for trial.

Frank Merriweather, of this city, and who escaped from the insane asylum, was arrested by Sheriff Nelson to-day, and is confined in the county jail. Merriweather was sent to the insane asylum for inebriation.

The Miami Democratic club will observe Jackson's Day and in the evening give a public reception at Arion hall. Hon. W. G. Colerick will be one of the speakers and his name was accidentally omitted from the list handed THE SENTINEL.

Mr. Christ Colney, a popular Pittsburg engineer, and Miss Lulu Larimer, of Dunkirk, O., were married at the episcopal residence by Rev. Father Brammer this afternoon. THE SENTINEL extends congratulations to the young people.

Albert Greiste, formerly of this city, is visiting his mother, Mrs. S. B. Hall, 34 West Main street. Mr. Greiste has a lucrative business, a charming wife and two interesting children at Crawfordsville, Ind., where he has been located the past two years.

Superintendents Woodward, of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago, Stevens, of the Wabash, and E. L. Scott, general agent of the bondholders of the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago road, met at Indianapolis to-day to complete the settlement of the questions at issue between the two roads regarding terminal facilities at Indianapolis.

Henry Bohrmann, the eccentric peedler who has been in the insane asylum and poor house, is back again. His father sent for him some time ago and his passage was paid to New York and also across the ocean to Bremen. It seems Bohrmann got away from his friends and came back here. He says he sold his steamboat tickets at New York and with the money came back to Fort Wayne. He is now without a penny and arrangements are perfected to send him back again.

AGAINST LOGANSPORT.

Hon. A. H. Hamilton Proceeds to Collect Back Taxes.

"Mrs. Phoebe Hamilton, wife of A. H. Hamilton, the Fort Wayne millionaire, commenced suit against the city to-day by her attorneys, Judge N. O. Ross and George E. Ross, to recover the back taxes already paid and, to enjoin the collection of taxes now assessed, but unpaid, on the property located on the southside. The complaint sets forth that the property was never legally annexed to the city, and therefore the city has no right to assess taxes on the same. This is a matter that has been before the council for some time. At the last meeting of that body a resolution was introduced favoring the refunding of taxes on the property involved. The council ordered that Mr. Hamilton be compelled to make out a plat of the property on which he desired to be relieved from paying taxes and furnish the same to the council before any further steps should be taken in the matter. Mr. Hamilton refused to carry out this instruction and nothing more was heard of him until yesterday when he arrived in the city for the purpose of commencing legal proceedings in order to gain his point," says the Logansport Pharos.

AWFUL CRUEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Miller Lock Their Children Up and Abandon Them.

A gentleman named Young, who lives on Fairfield avenue, related a sad story to Deputy Prosecutor Bittinger to-day. Philip Miller, who was recently arrested for forging his father's name, lives out on Fairfield avenue. A few days ago Mr. and Mrs. Miller left home and locked their two children in the house. Eighteen hours afterwards the screams of the little ones attracted the attention of neighbors, who broke into the house and rescued the frightened youngsters from death. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have not been heard of, but their unfortunate children are kindly cared for.

Hon. R. C. Bell on Congress.

"Are you going to be a candidate for congress in your district?" asked a News reporter of Hon. R. C. Bell, of Fort Wayne, this morning. "Am I? Well, I should say not," was the reply. "I wouldn't go to congress if the nomination and election were handed me on a silver platter. I'd rather be a plain, ordinary jack-legged state senator in Indiana. An unknown man in congress is swallowed up in the whirlpool of greatness, and has no chance to distinguish himself, unless he is either a man of national reputation before he goes, or serves a number of terms and is put on important committees. In these days there too many aspiring politicians to allow a man to stay in congress very long as a general thing. I don't want any of it," says the Indianapolis News.

Real Estate Transfers.

The Bucyrus polo team will appear at the Princess on to-morrow one week.

NEAR Haverstraw, New York, stands High Top, a mountain of romantic rocks, beetling lodges, precipices, zig-zag paths, and that sort of thing. A few days ago Mr. Blackledge and Miss Millicent Porter, lovers were coming down the mountain toward Haverstraw, when he fell headlong from a cliff. His "pale" face was seen gazing up from a tree that had caught the falling form, and the heroine knew she must rescue him. Willing fingers ripped her cloak (how fortunate that she did not have her seal aneque on!), and, trying the four shreds to other shreds, nobly obtained by the truly heroic sacrifice of a petticoat, she let the rope down. When it had been grasped by the youth, up he came, hand over hand, and down he limped to Haverstraw.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 7.—The state board of agriculture yesterday adopted a resolution asking congress to enact a law placing all dairy products and all imitations or substitutes for the same under the control of a competent government inspector, to the end that such articles shall be branded and sold under their proper names and on their own merits.

Nanticoke's Dead.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

WILKESBARRE, Jan. 7.—Contributions to the Nanticoke relief fund are coming in from various sources. Employees of various mines in that vicinity have decided to each give one day's pay to the fund. This will alone, raise $6,000. Work of the recovery of bodies of the victims goes on steadily attended with great danger.

Work on the Suez Canal Delayed.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The work of widening the Suez canal is delayed, owing to the refusal of the Egyptian government to sanction a modification of the treaty so as to allow the interest on the proposed loan of $3,000,000 to be paid from the loan itself instead of from the receipts of the canal as stipulated in the treaty.

A Big Damage Suit.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—An action for damages has been brought by General Manager Mallick, of the Detroit, Lansing and Northern, against H. W. Ashley, superintendent of the Toledo road, in the sum of $50,000, because of the action of the defendant and his men in having torn up the track and cut the wires of the Lansing road.

PROFESSOR YOCUM

Lectures on the Moon at Columbia City.

They held a successful teachers' institute at Columbia City Tuesday. In the evening Professor Yocum, of the Fort Wayne college, was introduced. The subject of his lecture was "The Moon." The professor first gave some of the ancient ideas concerning this heavenly body, which were very curious. At one time they believed that the body was approaching the earth and would actually come in contact with it. This thought spread consternation and fear over all the inhabited globe, until the French astronomer decided that it would approach for a great period of time and then recede from it. This lecture was very interesting, as the close attention of the large audience attended. According to Professor Yocum in about 102,000 years the moon may plunge into this mundane sphere and knock it all into a cooked hat. As matters now stand who cares what is done with this world that far in the future.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

How the Supplications are Directed.

The union of the churches during the week of prayer has been highly beneficial and a source of spiritual profit in years past, and therefore by previous arrangement at the ministers' meeting a week ago, it was concluded to carry out the usual program laid down by the Evangelical Alliance. The services will be held in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church this week, beginning on Monday, Jan. 4, at 2 o'clock and will continue each day at the same hour. The following topics, with leaders' names and dates, are given for reference and ready access:

The prayers to-day were devoted to the church and the family—that the church of Christ may be more united in the bonds of faith and love; that, holding fast the Head, it may grow with the increase of God; that it may be delivered from false apostles and wolves in sheep's clothing; that Christ may be all in all in its teaching, and that the grace of the Holy Spirit may rest more and more on Christian families; on all instructors and pupils in institutions of learning; on Sunday schools and on christian associations of young men and women.—Ephos. iv., 1-24; John xv., 1-12; John xvii., 6-26; Col. iii., 1-17; Prov. xxiii., 13-30; Gal. v.; Acts xx., 28-38; Epistle Jude; Proverbs iv.

The prayers to-morrow will be directed to nations and governments.—For rulers and all in authority; for the spread of justice and peace; for the defeat of malicious plots and conspiracies; for the manifestation of a christian spirit between employers and employed; for the removal of all race and sectional prejudices; for the abolition of traffic in slaves, opium and intoxicating drinks, and all other immoral trades and practices; for a favorable reception of christian missionaries by heathen rulers and peoples; and for the coming of Christ in the kingdom.—I Tim. ii., 16. Ps. xi. II Tim. iii. II Thess. ii. Ps. lxxii. Rom. xii., 1-8. Ps. xlii. Matt. xxiv., 29-51.

HENDRICKS' STATUE.

Encouraging Condition of Affairs all Over the Country.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 7.—The monument association reports a most encouraging state of affairs. The local organizations throughout the state are busily and systematically canvassing their respective counties, and the indications are that Indiana will contribute generously to the project. The advice from the country at large are equally cheering. The New York friends and admirers of the late vice president are actively at work, and Washington is manifesting warm interest. The secretary of the association returned this morning from Chicago and reports the most cordial co-operation there. A meeting of influential gentlemen was held yesterday evening at the Froquois club, at which the officers of the leading political organizations were present, and a citizens' committee of twelve prominent gentlemen was appointed, with Potter Palmer at its head. The movement is non-partisan and in the hands of earnest and substantial friends. The secretary reports that the general remark was that such a character as that of Mr. Hendricks should be conspicuously preserved on the public attention and says that Chicago evidently intends to aid the movement in hand very substantially.

SMALL POX

Discovered in Harvard College.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A Boston special says that Harvard college is greatly excited over the report that a case of small pox has been discovered there. The victim's name is not given, but he is a member of Holyworth hall and has been removed to the college hospital.

Boston, Jan. 7.—The report that a case of small pox has been discovered at Harvard college is denied. There is one case of scarlet fever, which has been isolated.

Strikers Mob Non-Union Men.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—This morning, when eight of the non-union men were on their way to work at the Maxwell Bros' box factory, they were attacked by a crowd of strikers—a mob of men and boys armed with sticks and stones. Several of the workmen were seriously hurt. The police were called but they only succeeded in arresting two small boys, who could not be identified.

"Lo! the poor Indian!" tramping about in all sorts of weather, and dying with cold. Won't some "good Samaritan" send him a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

NOT THE DORSEY OF "SOAP" FAME.

Nearly every one who travels on the boats of the Louisville and Jeffersonville Ferry Company is acquainted with Mr. J. C. Dorsey, the superintendent of the company, to whom much of its success is due. Mr. Dorsey has a pleasant family and a comfortable home on Wall St. near Chestnut, Jeffersonville, Ind., the happiness of which, however, has been somewhat disturbed by sickness. Mrs. Dorsey has been a severe sufferer from rheumatism, and neuralgia in the face has at times made Mr. Dorsey's life a burden. They are both in the best of health, however, and attribute this to Athliphoros, a remedy which has done for them all that is claimed for it in the matter of curing rheumatism and neuralgia. The story of how they were restored to health by this wonderful medicine was thus told by Mrs. Dorsey to one who called upon her to learn her experience and that of her husband with Athliphoros:

"I was afflicted with a very serious rheumatism last winter. It was principally in the arms, and I was suffering the most intense pain one Saturday evening when my husband came home. I said to him:

"I don't see how I can endure this pain much longer. It seems as if it were eating my bones."

"Well, never mind," said my husband, "I have a bottle of the King cure," at the same time holding forth a bottle of Athliphoros. I took my first dose at once. That was about six o'clock. In less than two hours the pain was very much reduced, and I felt comfortable in comparison with the suffering I had endured. I had such quick relief from the first dose that I got in a hurry and did not wait three hours as I should have according to the directions; but took the second dose at the end of two hours. The medicine was so powerful that it made me quite sick all the next day, but as soon as the bad feelings were gone I found that my rheumatism had gone with them, and I have never had any rheumatic pain since."

"How long ago was this, Mrs. Dorsey?"

"It was the middle of last winter."

"How did you first hear about Athliphoros?"

"It was by accident I might say, that I first heard of it. While I was afflicted by rheumatism my husband was suffering with neuralgia in his face, which had become very much swollen. On the morning of the Saturday which I have mentioned, Mr. Taylor, of Ufca, was crossing on the ferry boat, and noticed that Mr. Dorsey's face was swollen. Mr. Taylor asked him what the trouble was, and my husband told him that it was neuralgia. Mr. Taylor then said:

"I know of a valuable medicine that will cure you. If it doesn't, why then I will pay for it."

"He then mentioned Athliphoros to my husband, who took down the name and on his way home stopped at a store and bought some. At the time he did not think of it as a remedy for my rheumatism, but seeing by the printed directions that it was for rheumatism as well as for neuralgia, he offered it to me when he came in and found me in so much pain."

"Did it cure Mr. Dorsey's neuralgia?"

"Yes, the pain and swelling soon left and he has not been troubled with it since."

"If you cannot get ATHLIPHOROS of your druggist, will send it express paid, or receipt of regular price—each dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from our druggist, but if he cannot get it, send for it to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLIPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York."

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.

THURSDAY, JAN. 7, 1886.

P. T. BARNUM grows stoop-shouldered with the weight of years.

REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE shook hands with as many as 2,000 callers on New Year's Day.

LEE LINS, of Wabash, yesterday made arrangements to establish a republican paper at Kokomo within the next thirty days.

We are sorry Dr. Parker, of Kendallville, failed to receive the postoffice at that place. It seems that the present administration is sitting down rather hard on the brethren of the press.

The Indianapolis Journal comes out in favor of a high license. This paper has heretofore been a prohibition advocate. It is thought, at Indianapolis, that both parties will put a high license plank in their platform.

W. W. FERRIER has sold his interest in the Steuben Republican, to A. S. Hale, of Auburn, N. Y., and the paper will hereafter be conducted by Rackstraw & Hale. Mr. Ferrier will spend the summer in Washington territory, and make a location there if the country and climate suit.

The amount of revenue derived from liquor licenses in Chicago under the new $500 license law has increased from $200,000 to $1,500,000 a year, and the number of saloons has decreased from 13,000 to 6,000. The saloons running under the new law find that their increased sales more than make up for the increased license.

AND now comes the word that Hon. A. P. Edgerton is to resign the position of civil service commissioner. We are sorry to see Mr. Edgerton withdraw from such an important position, but glad to know that he will return to our city, where his influence has always acted like a charm and been wielded for the public good and the welfare of his home.

It is now thought that the democratic state convention will not be held until about the second week in September. This will give us a short and active campaign. People are tired and disgusted with long-winded campaigns. They not only interfere with business, but keep everything in an uproar. The congressional and county conventions should not be held until after the state convention meets and establishes a platform.

In the state treasurer's office is a very elaborate and costly gilt and bronze clock, and two bronze representations of scenes in his relief, besides some silverware, spoons, etc., in the safe. These are the property of the state and were part of the furniture and ornaments in the "governor's residence" when the state imported such an establishment, but what became of the rest of it nobody knows. Governor Willard was the last executive who had a residence furnished by the state.

"A GREAT many people, as well as newspapers, seem to think that we will not be able to get the state house completed in time for the next legislature," said Commissioner Nelson this morning. "We do not expect to have it entirely completed by that time, but enough of it—the south half—for the legislature and state officers or at least a greater part of them. Our present expectation is to have the entire building completed and furnished throughout by January 1, 1886, and it will take very persistent work to do that."

MR. BRIANT fails to respond to THE SENTINEL's invitation to point out the bad management or crookedness in the affairs of our county. We hope this will satisfy our republican friends that every thing has been conducted fairly and honestly. Mr. Briant was a republican member of the board of commissioners for three years, and all though he was not able to control the board he was permitted to examine every bill that was allowed and if there was anything paid that was not right and proper, he ought to and does know it.

UNCLE SAM paid out during 1835 a million a week for interest on the public debt. Even at that he got off easier than he has in any year since 1863. In 1867 he paid out for this purpose $144,000,000, sum nearly equal to his present total expenses, excluding interest and sinking fund. Even as recently as 1880 the interest burden was $65,000,000.

THERE are two well-known house-decorators in New York City who are brothers, of the same height, weight, complexion and build, wearing clothes of the same color and style, and lunching together, without speaking a word to each other, every day at Delmonico's. The ordinary mortal cannot tell them apart, and one never knows which of the two he is talking to.

A CASE of petrification is reported from the town of Topsfield, Mass. The section has been engaged in removing bodies from an old part of the cemetery to the new, and the body of Israel Gallup was removed in the ordinary way, but it was found impossible to raise the body of his wife, who was buried by his side, and a plank was put down on an inclined plane, and the coffin in this way was drawn to the surface. A hasty examination showed that the body, which had been buried thirty years, had become petrified, the eyes and a portion of the nose only showing signs of decay, the rest, even to the folds of her robe, being changed to stone.

THE microphone—an electric stethoscope whose sensitiveness to the faintest sounds has been described as making "the walk of a fly seem like the tramp of an elephant"—is likely to become of great use in medical diagnosis. In the Atlanta Medical and Surgical Journal, Dr. Eves describes an interesting series of experiments made by him with the instrument. He was able to detect the nature of obscure fractures by the character of the sounds conducted through the instrument, and could differentiate aneurisms from tumors by the sounds of pulsation. Intracranial and muscular sounds were made out with great clearness, and in diagnoses for stone the instrument worked with mathematical accuracy. The doctor suggests that an audiophone constructed on the principle of the microphone would prove inestimable to people of impaired hearing.

LE the hydrophobia scare continues, it is not improbable that the now despised barber may rise once more to his ancient dignity, and become a barber-surgeon, second only to the surgeon-dentist in the social hierarchy. "Dry cupping" immediately and assiduously applied to the part bitten is a remedy strongly recommended by several eminent doctors; and whatever may be our faith in M. Pastour most of us would probably prefer to give this simpler cure a fair trial in the first place, reserving our right to rush off to Paris and have ourselves inoculated the moment serious symptoms begin to develop. Dry cupping has been found efficacious in the case of snake bites, and there seems to be no reason on the face of it why it should not counteract the even more terrible dog bites as well. Most barbers have ceased to hang out the brass basin which used to be the sign of their chirurgurgical calling; let them now resume it, sharpen their lancets, and adopt the motto, "A prick in time saves nine."

REPRESENTATIVE TOM REED, of Maine, is nearly six feet high, and his frame must weigh considerably over 100 pounds. There is no man in Congress, or, indeed, in public life, unless it be Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, who has so keen a wit as Tom Reed. There is not one except Ingalls who approaches him in bitter sarcasm and cruel thrusts at an adversary. He has a most tantalizing manner when he gets into a quarrel on the floor of the House, and he does not care if he wounds his enemies so deeply that they carry their scars to their graves. When Reed rises to his full height, plants his left foot in his chair, and says "Mr. Speaker!" in shrill, down-East accents, everybody turns to listen, and everybody listens till he sits down. He is an able and skillful debater, with a terrible ability to say cutting things, under which his opponents squirm helplessly. Personally he is kindly and even genial, but his power of sarcasm runs away with him, as it does with most men who have it at all, so that he has turned friends into enemies, not only in Portland but in Washington. He is a delightful story teller, and one of the best after-dinner speakers in Washington.

Father of Diseases. Constipation has been called the father of diseases, therefore it should not be regarded as a trifling ailment. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep and no health can be expected where a cætic habit of the body prevails. Take a half-teaspoonful of Simmons Liver Regulator after each meal, the bowels will be gently moved without gripping or nausea as naturally as if no medicine had been taken. Regularity in taking the medicine daily will soon effect a permanent cure.

GERALT HENDRICKS, a Dutch Mennonist, who came here with three others in 1638, was a direct ancestor of the late Vice President. These four Hollanders, on the 13th of April, 1638, signed and published a protest against slavery, which they found existing in Eastern Pennsylvania, wherein they declared: "Ye Quakers do here handle men like they handle ye cattle."

SENATOR EDWARDS keeps four horses in his stable. He lives quietly but expensively. When he first entered the chamber it is said he was worth less than $50,000, but his wealth now is placed at $500,000. He has a fashion of leaving his seat in the Senate and going over to argue a case before the Supreme Court that pays him very well.

NOW and then it is proclaimed that Christianity in the United States is declining. Dr. Parkhurst recently had an able article on the subject in the North American Review. He gives the following statistics of the increase in the number of evangelical churches and communicants from 1800 to 1880: In the year 1800 there were in the United States 3,000 evangelical churches; in 1850, 43,072; in 1870, 70,148, and in 1880, 97,090—a gain of 27,000 in the decade between 1870 and 1880. In 1800 there were 364,000 communicants; in 1850, 3,520,000; in 1870, 6,673,030; in 1881, 10,065,000. Of course during all this time there was an immense increase in population, but the increase in church membership a good deal more than kept pace with that of population. Taking the whole country through, there was in 1880 one evangelical communicant to every 144 inhabitants; in 1850, one to every 61; in 1870, one to every 52, and in 1880, one to every 5. In 1840 only 5 per cent. of the students were church members. In 1850 26 per cent. of the students of all American colleges were professing Christians; in 1870, 38 per cent.; in 1880, 45 per cent.; in 1880, out of 12,000 students in sixty-five colleges, 6,081, or a little more than half, were professors of religion.

THE FIRST KEEN TWINGE.

As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hoods Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism, we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hoods Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

"Fort Wayne, Portland and Decatur organized companies to bore for gas. As has been before remarked, when they get done boring they might pull up the holes and cut them off the right length and sell them for post holes," says the Bluffton Chronicle.
Master Mechanic Barnes, of the Wabash, is building a thirty-seven ton freight engine, upon which he is introducing some new features which he thinks will result in an engine of that weight hauling as many freight cars as does a forty-five-ton console engine.
The many friends of Judge R. E. Wright, of Allentown, Pa., will be pained to learn of his sudden and dangerous illness. His daughters, Mrs. C. A. Miller and Mrs. A. J. Laubach, left last evening on the limited to attend his bedside and his death is expected at any moment.
Helen LaRue and Henry P. Freeman, who played here with the Little Tramp company, in which Leonard Wales took a part, were married at Mayville, Ky., recently. Mr. O. L. Perry has a card to the wedding and recalls the fact that the manager of the company wanted Miss LaRue to marry him here.
General Charlton is superintendent of the Plainfield reform school, is an old newspaper man and once edited a paper at Madison. The general is talked of prominently as a democratic candidate for governor. His visit here was pleasant and besides prominent soldiers, who called, a number of boys who were committed to his charge at Plainfield, paid their respects to their old master.
Frank Dix, Will Buckles, Tom Carey, Ed Davies, Dave Eckert and Al Foote, the Fort Wayne polo team, returned to-day from Muncie where they played two games with the polo club of that city. On Tuesday evening the Fort Wayne team was defeated by a score of three to nothing. Last evening the score was a tie, two to two, in four innings. The home club report a fine time and that they were nicely used by the Muncie boys. Muncie is badly mashed on polo.
Messrs. Hughes and Ward, of Illinois, will commence a two-weeks' gospel temperance meeting at the Academy of Music, next Sunday evening, Jan. 10. Of these gentlemen the Galesburg (Ill.) Daily Register says: "Both are brilliant and magnetic. We doubt whether there are two men engaged in the temperance work in Illinois who are better fitted or better equipped." Their words burn with the fire of a holy purpose. They talk with a logic that reaches the reason and with an eloquence that touches the heart. Their style is forcible, earnest and fascinating. Let every body come to the first meeting.

Has merely shows the quantity purchased for 26 cents in 1870 cost 38 cents in 1873, and could at the close of 1885 be purchased for 16 cents. Pork in the same way; the quantity which cost 35 cents in 1870 could be purchased for one half that in 1873; in 1878 it rose to 10 cents only to fall below 10 cents in 1878. It reached 19 cents again in 1882, only to close in 1885 at 11 cents. The cheapness of pork and other provisions is due to the tremendous crop of corn, which amounted to 2,000,000,000 bushels. Comparing the prices of the leading articles of food for 1884-1885, The American Grocer says:
The general drift has been toward a lower range of prices, sugar being the only exception of note. While the prices at the close of the year for wheat and flour are above those at the same time in 1884, there has not been a time in thirty years when the average price of breadstuffs has been as low as at the seaboard as during the one just closed. Throughout the year dairy products have been very cheap, the export prices ruling lower than for any other year in the history of the trade, with the exception of 1879. Potatoes are higher in consequence of the general prevalence of rot. Poultry is very cheap, so cheap in fact that fresh cod, proverbially called the poor man's turkey, is dear in comparison. In fresh fish and salt mackerel are luxuries this year.
Coffee is decidedly lower, due to enormous supplies and the curtailment of speculation in the article. The importation of tea has been heavy, and prices throughout the year have averaged lower than in 1884. Rice commands the same price as one year before viz., 5 to 7 cents per pound. There has been a heavy consumption of foreign and domestic fruits, and that is a good test of the purchasing power of the masses.
When before has there been a period during which the laborer receiving $1, $2 or $3 per day could supply his table with such a variety of food of the best sort as now? Is there reason for complaining of the cost of living when at retail the best grades of flour are obtainable at a trifle over 8 cents per pound? Good butter averaging the year through less than 25 cents per pound; cheese, 10 to 15 cents; poultry is cheaper than beef; pork products low, the finest brands of hams retailing at 12 cents per pound. The consumer may make choice of wholesome, palatable canned tomatoes, corn, beans or peas anywhere from 8 to 12 cents per can. The cost of food is by no means the greatest part of the year's expenses. In fact food is a better equivalent for the money it costs than any other of the requisites of housekeeping. So far as it is concerned the poor of to-day are as well off as the wealthy classes of ten years ago. In that respect it is the poor man's millennium.
